[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD UNION.]

IS IT ALL A FICTION? Sensational Story that Affects Some body in California. NEW YORK, March 29th .- [Special.]-The story of an old crime, mingled with considerable romance, was again brought out yesterday, after a lapse of thirty-three years. J. B. Hart, a lawyer of San Francisco, appeared in the Court of General Sessions, and asked Recorder Smythe that the old indictment against Wm. Kissane, for forgery, be quashed. The date of the indictment is November, 1854. At that time Kissane, Andrew Findlay and Lyman Cole were accused of passing a forged check for $6,018 on the Continental Bank, the predecessor of the Chemical National Bank. The same men were charged with forging another draft for $12,000 on the American Exchange draft for $12,000 on the American Exchange Bank. Both drafts were in favor of one imaginary James Bishop, who was represented by Andrew Findley. The cases attracted considerable notice in those days. On March 16, 1855, when Cole was prosecuted by the Continental bank, Oakey Hall, who was then District Attorney, entered a nolle prosequi. Kissane, however, was not so lucky, and at his trial was found guilty and sent up for a term of two years and six months. Kissane went to prison, served nine months. Kissane went to prison, served nine months, and was pardoned. After regaining liberty he moved to San Francisco. When Mr. Hart made his motion yesterday for a dismissal of the other indictments against Kissane, a letter from General Francis Dorr, of San Francisco and formerly of New York indictments against Kissane, a letter from General Francis Dorr, of San Francisco and formerly of New York, was read. New York Fencing Cluo looked on from private boxes and the balcony.

Senac is a taller man and broader-chested than Trouchett. He was dressed in a suit of black velvet, with a red beliabout his waist, and white leather gaunt lets on both hands. It was the suit he wears when Mrs. Langtry dons her tight-fitting fencing waist and blouse and wide trousers to take fencing lessons. Trouchett hopped upon the platform in the same sort of velvet suit and the same kind of gauntets. That's the way he faces Sarah Bern-nardt when the French actress wants to take some exercise with the foils.

The conditions were two fifteen-minut assaults with the foils, with a five-minute ntermission, and then an assault of fifteen ninutes with triangular dueling swords after ten minutes' rest. It was the fines exhibition of fencing ever seen in this city The fighting was hard and furious, but scientific. In the first bout Trouchett scored eight points to six for Senac. The second closed even at eleven. At the end of the third Trouchett was declared the winner, on a total of seventeen to fourteen

THE TREASURYSHIP.

Difficulty of Finding a Successor to Secretary Jordan.

WASHINGTON, March 29th .- [Special.]-The President is still at sea as to the ap pointment of a successor to Treasurer Jordan. The office is one that is hard to fill n account of the large bond required and o little chance for a man to make a reputa-ion in the office that few men who would be acceptable to the President could be in-luced to accept it. The President has made up his mind to appoint some man not now in the service, and a Western man, if one o suit can be found. As to the Assistant Secretaryship, Solicitor McCue is the only candidate kept constantly at the front. The Judge himself knows nothing about the matter. The duties of the office require a knowledge of customs matters not likely to be possessed by any man living outside of New York, Chicago, New Orleans or San Francisco. The best law-yers in other places do not, as a rule, make a study of these questions. No man not thoroughly acquainted with the cus-toms laws and rulings could fill the posi-tion. The questions that he would be called upon to decide are of such import-ance that they are liable to seriously affect the revenues of the Government. Mc-Cue is the most prominently associated with the appointment because of his familiarity with customs matters, and the importance of getting a man of whose qualifications the President has personal knowledge may incline him to give the appointment to New York, if the Treasurership STILL AFTER BIM.

THE DECREASE OF CRIME.

"The Right Hon. Chief Secretary for Ireland has attempted to excuse the proposal on the ground that crime in Ireland durin the last three years has increased, but h followed the usual course in refraining from giving the House official information proving his allegations by statistics from Ireland against the Government. Take, for instance, the number of threatening letters received in 1855. No less than 432 such letters were received; but in 1886 only 75 were received. That hardly furnished a ground for asking Parliament to assent to an extreme measure of coercion. Other cases of crime amounted in 1885 to 512, and in 1886 to 517 [opposition cheers], and this increase was described as the main reason for the extreme demands of the Government. WHY THE AMENDMENTS SHOULD

The constitutional judicial amendments will probably be adopted, as they should be, for they are promotive of good government. But the friends of the measures should not rest content with the belief that they will prevail. Over-confidence breeds neglect, that results very often in defeat. There is some opposition to the amendments. It springs from the source that manifests contrarity of spirit to nearly all things that proceed from any other than itself. It is the same spirit that looks upon success with envy, upon government as oppression, upon taxation as a burden and recompense for talent as properly measured only by the wage of a day laborer. From this influence some votes will be projected against the advance step the amendments propose. We believe that if the press will, in the very few days between this and the 12th of April, dispassionately discuss the amendments, a great deal of misapprehension concerning them will be removed.

It is only needed that the people shall be fully informed of the defects of our present system, and how it is proposed to reform it, to secure the requisite vote for their adoption. It is gratifying to note that the trade and industrial journals are giving their support to the amendments. They find that they propose true economy, and will subserve justice, speedy settlement That journal very clearly presents the forcible and conclusive reasons why the amendments should be adopted. It points out that Amendment No. 1 gives to the Justices the selection of their presiding Justice. Surely this is wise; it is promotive of harmony, and renders it improbable that a junior inferior lawyer fresh from the bar, by political whim or drift, will ever be placed above senior and ex-It proposes to give the Supreme Court

Under the Constitution as it is the Court may divide into two departments of three Judges each. This was designed to give it double working capacity. But, unfortunately, the present Constitution requires the concurrence of the three Judges in a department to render a judgment. If one dissents there is a mis-trial, and the case has necessarily to go into the Court in bank and be heard all over again. The result is easily seen. After a case has been of what should be systematic endeavor-

Such salaries should bear just relation to the service demanded and be proportioned to the talent the bench of the State must command. In no case now recalled was such persistent effort ever made to postpone a trial. The attorneys for the defense in vain pleaded pre-engagements; the Court properly ruled that the demands of public justice were superior to those of private convenience, and the defendant and his friends refusing to engage other counsel, the Court appointed attorneys for Goldenson, and he was forced to trial. It was a new experience in criminal practice in California, and old-time criminal lawyers looked upon it as a rude one, interfering with the long-established custom to delay trials and retard the proceedings until the public became indifferent concerning them. Of course Goldenson's defense was insanity. It is the usual plea of brutal murderers who are unable to set up even a shadow of provocation as excusing their crimes. Goldenson went into the question of heredity however, and attempted to prove that one of his grandparents was insane. He succeeded only in showing that the man was a cranky, irascable and crossgrained, tempestuous old Russian. Chinaman Killed, and Another Fatally Injured at Folsom. Coroner Clark received from Justice Anderson, of Folsom, vesterday, a report of the proceedings taken at the inques held by the Justice at that place on Monday upon the body of a Chinaman found in a Chinese cabin. The dead Chinaman had a bullet wound in the region of the bowels; and in the same place was found another Celestial, named Ah Ship, suffering from several severe knife wounds, and so badly injured that it is not believed probable that he will recover. The only witness that could be obtained who was capable of throwing any light upon the circumstances connected with the death of the individual upon whom the inquest was to be held was Ah Ship. His testi-mony was to the effect that last Saturday night, about 11 o'clock, he heard some one calling at the door of his cabin, and wen to see who it was and what was wanted. As he opened the door an unknown China man advanced upon him and struck him upon the head with a knife, and then cut him in several other places, not ceasing until Ah Ship drew a pistol and shot him. Ship claims that he had never had ainted with him and did not know his name. The Coroner's jury returned as their verdict that the deceased, name unknown, came to his death from a gunsho wound inflicted by Ah Ship, who acted in self-defense. ALTOGETHER LOVELY.

Our Country Must be Seen to be Appreciated-Wonderful Resources. People can successfully lie about almost everything; but when it comes to soil and climate, that is something which speaks for itself; laudations cannot improve it, condemnation has no effect upon it. A man who lives forever in one locality, who knows no other, is satisfied with his lot, and in his estimation it is the best in the world. The Esquimaax is happy in his Greenland home; he would not exchange one of his ice fields for an orange grove in Los Angeles, with a cable-road thrown in. The individual who has lived in Southern California any length of time, and those who have recently moved to that thriving section from the northern portion of the Mississippi valley, or the overcrowded section along the Atlantic seaboard, are delighted with its excellent climate and the fertility of its soil. So much superior is it to anything heretofore seen or enjoyed by them, that they are unwilling to listen for a moment to any one who says that in anther section is to be found a country its Free Trade. The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off of revenue stamps from pro-prietary medicines, no doubt has largely benefited the consumers, as well as relieving the burden of home manufacturers Especially is this the case with Green's August Flower and Boschee's German Syrup, as the reduction of thirty-six cents per dozen has been added to increase the size of the bottles containing these remedies, thereby giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75cent size. The August Flower for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, and the German Syrup for Cough and Lung troubles, have perhaps the largest sale of any medicines in the world. The advantage of increased size of the bottles will be greatly apprecited by the sick and efficient in every town. ated by the sick and afflicted in every town and village in civilized countries. TWO DISTINGUISHED CHEMISTS. Prominent Ladies and Four Dentists of Baiti-more Agree upon one Thing. A discussion recently arose among prominent ladies of Washington and Balti-more, relative to the chemical neutrality and solubility of Zonweiss Cream for the teeth, which was of Washington (Mrs. General Logan's Dentist), and four of the leading Dentists of Balti-more, for whom the article was analyzed by two well known Chemists, Prof. J. Morrison of Washington, and Prof. P. B. Wilson of Baltimore, both of whom proniurious to the teeth. Dr. Carroll says it is the most perfect dentifrice he has ever seen. Zonweiss is a white Cream, put up in a neat jar, and applied to the brush with a celluloid ivory spoon. CATARRH, HAY FEVER, ETC .- A. H. DIXON & SON.

CATARRH, HAY FEVER, CATARRHAL DEAF-NESS. A NEW TREATMENT!-Sufferers from the above diseases are not generally aware that they are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes.

Microscopic research has revealed this fact, and as a result of this discovery, it is now made easy to permanently cure this curse of our country by a few simple applications, made once in two weeks, by the patient at home.

Opinions of the Press Regarding DIXON'S NEW TREATMENT:

What a Bowmanville Editor Has to Say Regarding Dixon's Catarrh Remedy.

BOWMANVILLE, Canada, Jan. 2, 1883. to the Editor of the Statesman: DEAR SIR-Perhaps some of your readers are flicted with that dreadful disease-Catarrh.

beyond a doubt, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby Catarrh, Catarrhal I have been a subject of Catarrh for the last twenty years, and for the last eight years no one can tell the pains I have endured. At times I had a dull, heavy headache, discharges falling into the throat of a thick tenacious mucus. My eyes were weak and watery ringing in the ears, deafness, hacking and coughing to clear the throat, and at times I was almost suffocated. I consulted some of the best physicians of the day, but to no effect. I have tried every kind of patent medicines, washes and sunfishat I consider myself a could hear of, but did not receive the least benefit until I tried Fixon's Catarrh & Emery. On the 5th of August last I procured the remedy and started is use immediately, and by the use of only three treatments I consider myself permanently cured. Its beneficial action was immediate and the cure speedy. Judging from the effects of this treatment on myself, I am satisfied that Fixon's is the only known treatment for Catarrh which effect a permanent cure. To all who are suffering from Catarrh I must conscientiously say: Give Dixon & Son's Catarrh Remedy a fair trial; it is worth its weight in gold.

A Son's Catarrh Remedy a fair trial; it is worth its weight in gold.

Note by the Publisher.—The Publisher of the Statesman has had intimate acquaintance with the writer of the above letter, for about thirty years, and can, with scores of others, vouch for the correctness of the above statements. We have never known so bad a case of Catarrh as his was, and the use of Dixon's Catarrh.

Perhaps the most extraordinary success that has been achieved in modern medicine has been attained by the Dixon Treatment of Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness and Hay Fever. Out of 2,000 patients treated during the past six months, fully 90 per cent have been cured. This is none the less startling when it is remembered that not five per cent. of patients presenting themselves to the regular practitioner are benefited, while the patent medicines and other advertised cures never record a cure at all. Startling with the claim now generally believed by the most celentific men. that these diseases are due to the presence of living parasites in the disease practically cured, and the permanency may be seen the courter of the courier solely in the interest of sufferers from Catarrh, the facts of the tase referred to having come under his personal knowledge. It is gratifying to learn that there are some newspaper proprietors who will give a tissue, Mr. Dixon at once adapted his cure to their extermination. This accomplished, the disease practically cured, and the permanency may be suffered by him five years ago are cures still. No one else has ever at tempted to cure those diseases in this manner, and no other treatment has ever cured Catarrh. Catarrhal Deafness or Hay Fever. The application of the remedy is simple, and can be done at home, and the present season of the year is the most favorable for a speedy and permanent care, the majority of cases being cured at one at home, and the present season of the year is the most favorable for a speedy and permanent care, the majority of cases being cured at one at home, and the present season of the year is the most favorable for a speedy and permanent care, the majority of cases being cured at one treatment. Sufferers should correspond with Messrs. A. H. DIXON & SON, 856 King street West, Toronto, Canada, and incloses tamp for the first country of canada.
